

Since I obtained my XM radio two years ago, it has been nothing short of fantastic! I was absolutely tired of commercial radio and listened to it very little anyway, except for NPR; primarily, I used my CD player for my entertainment. As someone who spends a tremendous amount of time on the road, satellite radio gives me the news and other programming not available via public, commercial radio. I bought and paid for a satellite radio and I pay for monthly programming and am glad to do so to set what I want to hear and not what some one is pushing down my throat (or, trying to). The NAB should absolutely not dictate to me what I want to hear, and urge you to reject petition 04-160. I fully support XM radio's ability to give me choices not available anywhere else.
